Located in the heart of Glasgow, The Exchange is a stunning Grade A-listed building in the Royal Exchange Square, which has been recently refurbished and now serves as an exclusive and luxurious event space.

Amtico Signature, with its versatility, has been used throughout to complement the finish and character of each space; from the industrial style of The Print Room to the opulent finish of The Gallery, all provide a beautiful backdrop for any event.

Surface ID, the commercial interior design studio tasked with the refurbishment of The Exchange, worked to preserve and restore the location's original features and flooring where possible. By using LVT where the floor needed replacement, the team were able to seamlessly incorporate new design into existing areas, whilst complementing the original elements and adding showstopping features such as the dancefloor in The Print Room.

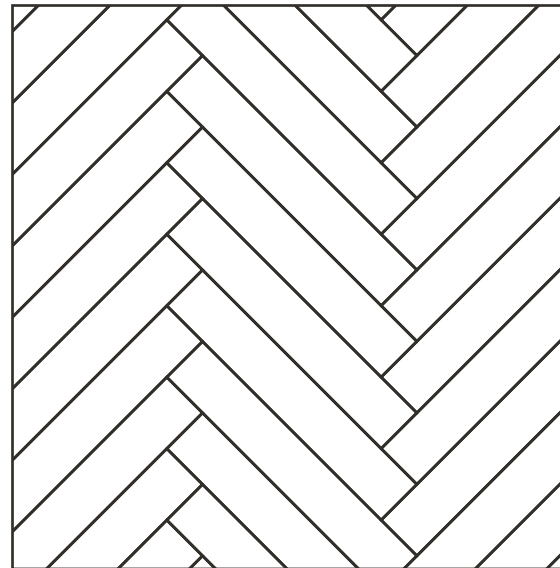

The Gallery

Featured Pattern:

Herringbone

Herringbone is a timeless pattern which can be created using standard sized planks. It creates subtle wayfinding and direction in large commercial spaces. Its use in The Gallery at The Exchange, provides the perfect aisle for wedding ceremonies. Beautifully paired with a Stripwood perimeter, the result is a stunningly classic space, which will never go out of style.

Featured Pattern:

French Weave EP272

Inspired by classic parquetry floors, French Weave features an intricate woven pattern, which adds a sense of luxury to large commercial spaces. Paired with French Oak through Signature's Endless Possibilities, the overall finish enhances the heritage of the site. Incorporated into The Exchange Bar, the floor beautifully flows into The Gallery; the use of the same colour but different laying patterns creates subtly zoned areas throughout this considered design.
