AW Rostamani Group is an innovative business house based in Dubai. Established in 1954, AWR remains a family-owned business and is committed to enriching lives by providing value to the nation through a range of sectors and brands.

When tasked with the refurbishment of AWR's headquarters, AAS Creations Interior Design specified stones from Amtico Spacia, which beautifully complement the minimalist and contemporary design. The design uses grey-toned stones to flood the office's spaces, creating the look of poured concrete but with all the practicalities of LVT. The final aesthetic is a sophisticated office with fresh, industrial vibes. The floor provides the perfect canvas for the neutral palette seen throughout, which features elements of nature with wood units and biophilic elements.
