Discover colourful boho vibes in the Alps. Switzerland's first boho ski hut "sit hütte" offers an enchanting place with the perfect blend of inspiration, cosiness and mountain magic.

The newly designed sit hütte is located in the middle of the majestic mountain landscape of Arosa, where alpine lifestyle and boho charm meet. Instead of the classic ski hut style, playful wallpaper, vibrant colours and a creative mix of patterns were chosen.

The detailed floor design shows the geometric laying pattern Victorian Star from the Amtico Décor collection. The small-scale tiles illustrate precision craftsmanship and are carefully combined to create an assembled tile of 457.2 x 457.2 mm. Another feature that makes this flooring concept unique is the individual choice of colours. Soft Stucco Opaline forms a neutral canvas which beautifully complements the two contrasting green shades: Encaustic Okra and Diffusion Aloe. These three tones are part of the Amtico Signature collection and sit in the Colour Edit palette, a selection of 25 colours designed for particularly harmonious combinations. The high-contrast star pattern repeats across the entire surface, creating a show stopping floor that demands everyone's attention.

"It was clear to me from the outset that I didn't want to design a typical ski lodge - I wanted to create a magical place that would surprise guests, both young and old, and enchant them as soon as they entered"

Bespoke Victorian Star
Victorian Star is reminiscent of Victorian floor tiles and uses precision cutting techniques to create an intricate star pattern. It is available in two different sizes and six beautiful colour options, but can also be customised. For easy installation, the precision-cut pieces are supplied in pre-cut, taped modules.
