

Amtico Project

The Mulcaster
& 1823 Grill

St Helier, Jersey

Hospitality & Leisure

Amtico Signature,
Amtico Décor

Designer
Axis Mason

Located on the ground floor of the venue, The Mulcaster celebrates the classic pub vibe with touches of traditional design, complemented with a modern twist and a contemporary menu.

The bar skirt uses Amtico Décor to bring to life a classic finish with its artisan and detailed design. It's beautifully finished with an Amtico Signature wood laid in Large Parquet. The versatility of LVT allows for the curve of the bar to be seamlessly mirrored in the floor design.

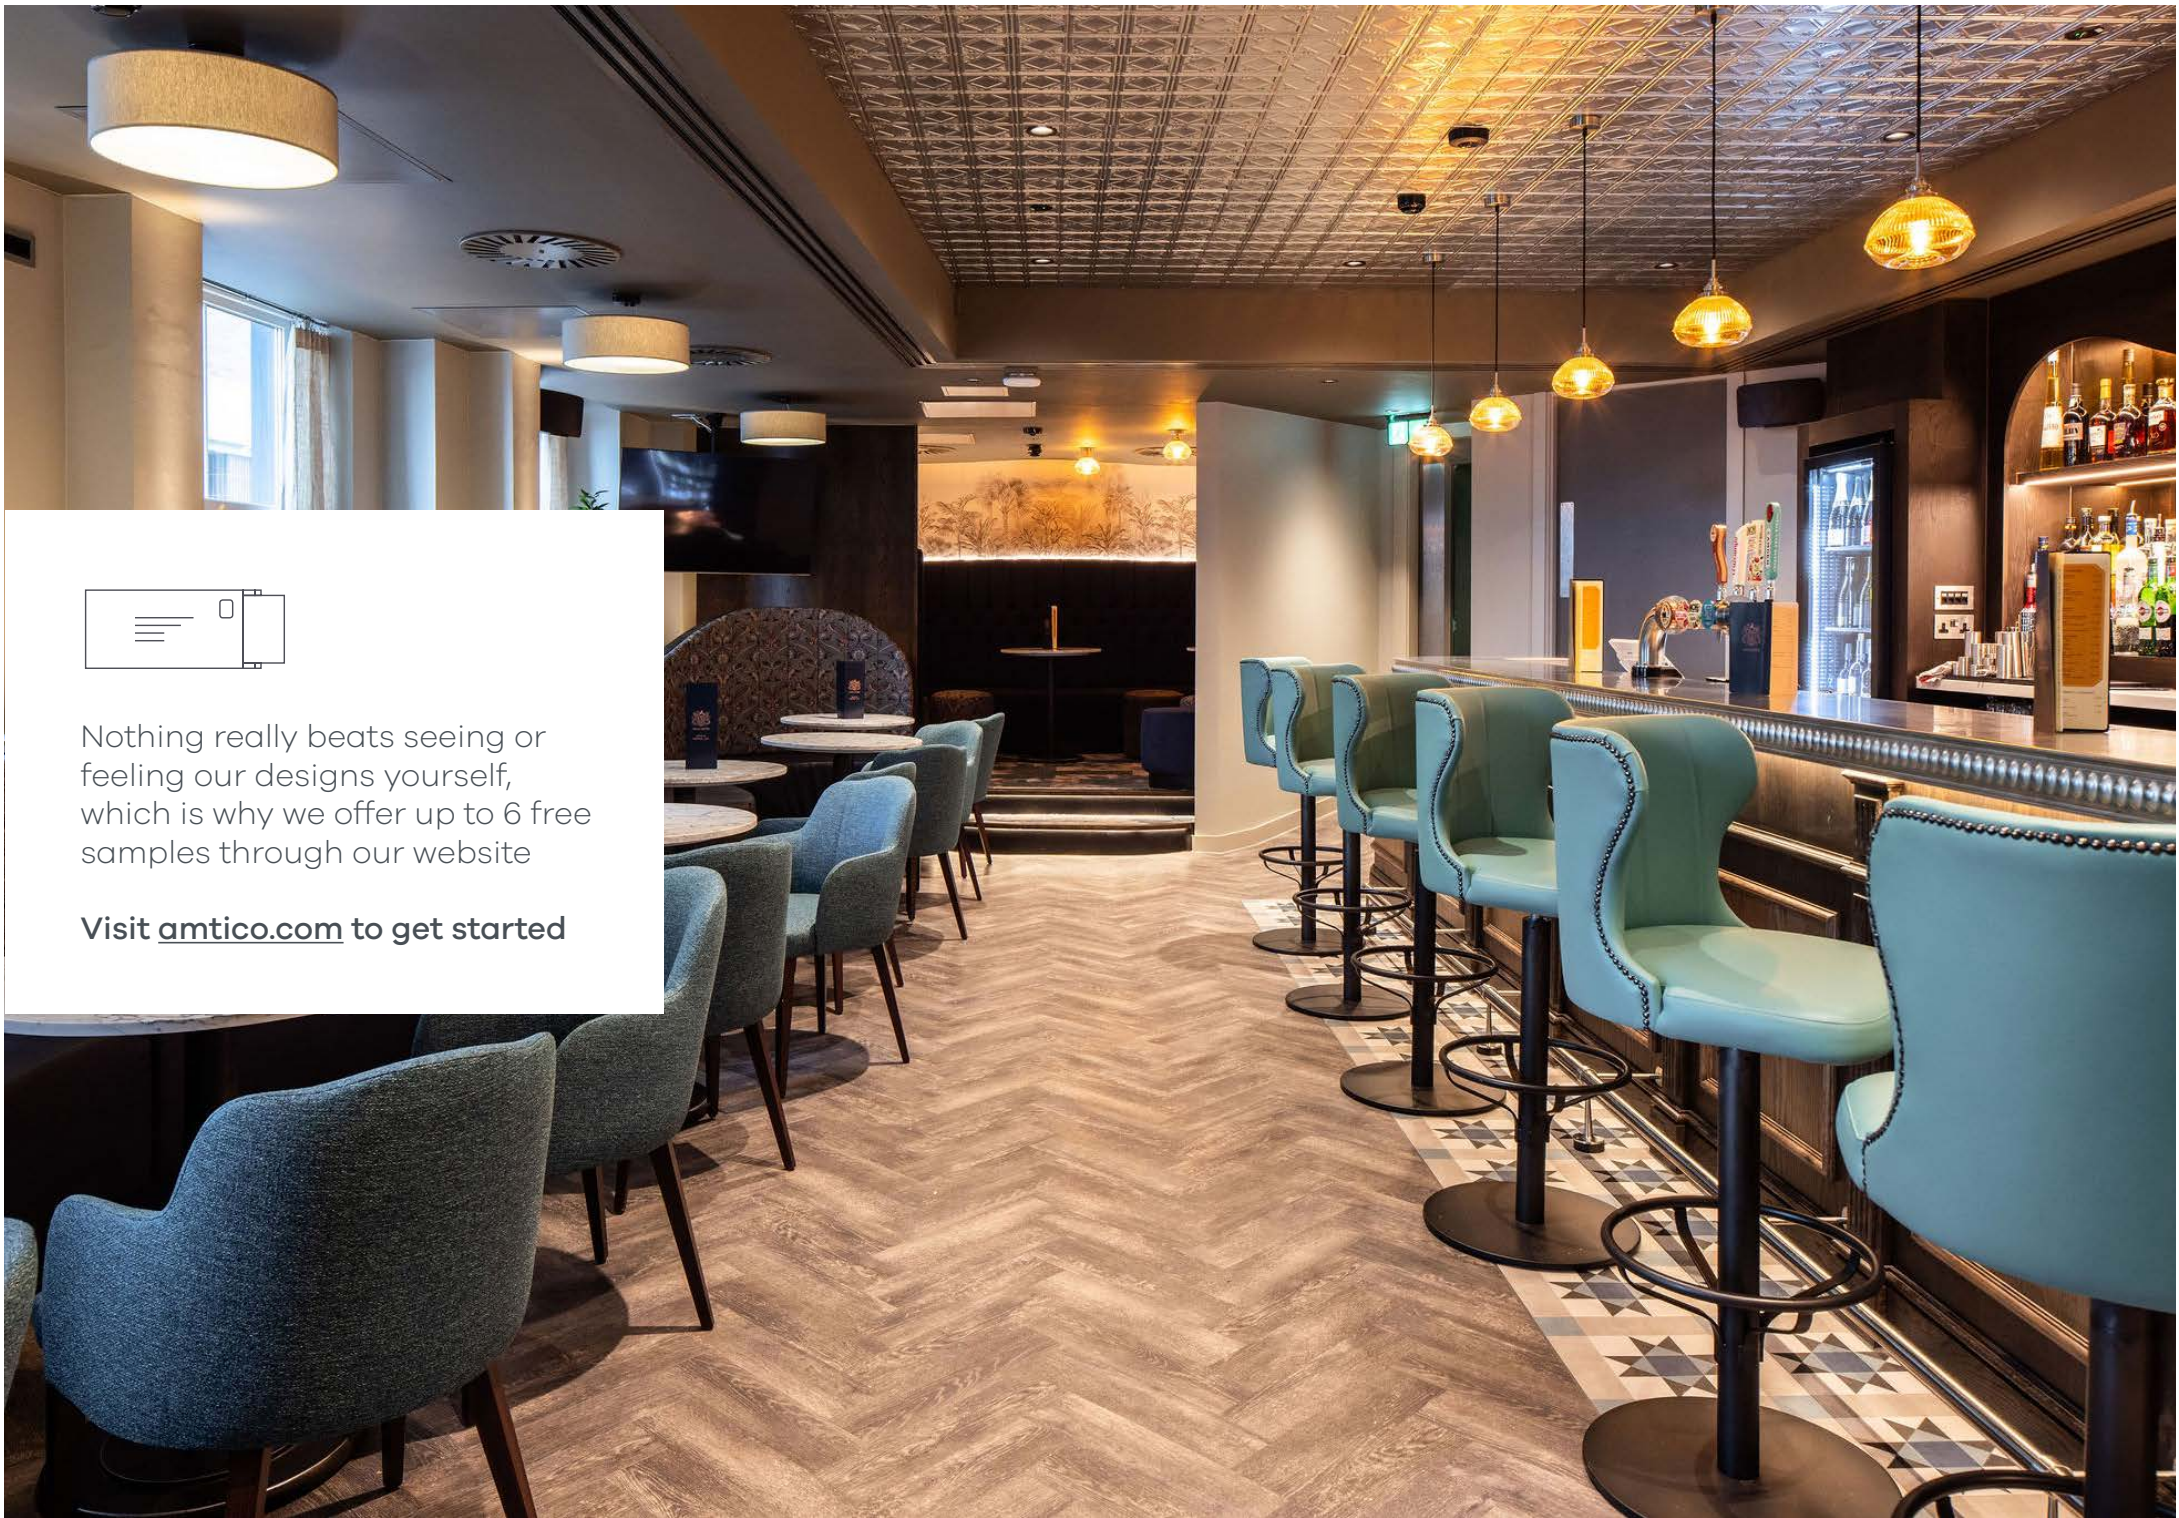

The 1823 Grill, located on the upper floor at The Mulcaster, offers a luxurious dining experience. Its floor is finished with Large Parquet to flood the restaurant and incorporates Stripwood to subtly zone the booths.

Nothing really beats seeing or feeling our designs yourself, which is why we offer up to 6 free samples through our website

The Mulcaster

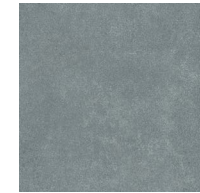

Featured Products:

Aspen Oak
AROW8310

Featured Pattern:

Large Parquet

The subtly distressed grain of Aspen Oak is beautifully shown when laid in Large Parquet, a popular laying pattern which has a timeless aesthetic, making it the ideal choice for the feel of a traditional pub environment. Aspen Oak's design emulates a timeworn, reclaimed floor which complements the tone and feel of Amtico Décor's Classic Aquamarine.

1823 Grill

Featured Products:

Buxton Oak
AROW8660

Featured Pattern:

Large Parquet

Continuing with its timeless appeal Large Parquet has also been used in the 1823 Grill. The use of Buxton Oak, with its golden hues and Scandi look brings an alternative feel to the space, exuding a luxurious and contemporary atmosphere. Booths have been delicately zoned using Stripwood in the same wood and Large Parquet serves as subtle wayfinding throughout the restaurant.
